

BUY BONDS AND STAMPS!
Your money is needed to help finance the war.

THE BRISTOL COURIER

DAILY WEATHER REPORT
Mild temperatures this afternoon and tonight.

VOL. XXXVII.—NO. 93 BRISTOL, PA., WEDNESDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 23, 1942 Price: 2c a Copy; 10c a Week

BRITISH COMMANDOS CARRY OUT RAIDS IN LIBYAN DESERT

Conclusion of Wild 60-Mile-Around Rides in Jeeps

ON BENGHAZI, TOBRUK

Daring Land Forays Supplement Aerial Attacks by R. A. F.

CAIRO, Sept. 23.—(INS)—Wild-riding British Commandos in 60-mile-around Jeeps have carried out land raids upon Benghazi, Barce, Tobruk and the Gialo oasis deep in the Libyan desert, it was disclosed today.

Benghazi lies 300 miles from the Egyptian frontier, while Tobruk is 100 miles away and the heavily defended Axis base at Gialo is a full 500 miles from the nearest British base.

Continued on Page Four

Wardens of Sixth Sector Plan For Scrap Drive

The details of the Bristol Scrap Drive were explained, last night, to the air raid wardens of the Sixth Sector when that group met in the auditorium of the Bristol high school. Samuel Shire told the wardens that he had represented the sector at the drive of the Bristol Scrap Committee.

Mr. Shire read a list of the various articles which may be found about dwellings, stores and factories and which contain the much needed metal and rubber.

Wesley Spencer, sector warden, urged the post wardens to get behind the scrap drive and make it an "all-out effort."

"This metal and rubber is badly needed by the steel mills to keep the furnaces going so that the munitions of war can be forged," said Mr. Spencer. "Let us put the sixth sector over the top in this drive. Let us get out the biggest scrap pile in Bristol. Visit your houses and tell the people that the scrap is needed, explain to them the necessity to get out everything of metal or rubber construction."

The air raid wardens and the emergency police are going to get the net proceeds to purchase needed equipment.

"Tin cans will not be taken this time," it was stated. They are to be collected later when factories now being built for the processing will have been completed.

There was a short talk by Rev. Major Andrew Solia who also gave the invocation.

Chief Air Raid Warden, John Healey, delivered another of his series of talks to the wardens and the benediction was given by the Rev. Albert Glass.

Percy Ford led the singing.

WAR BOND BOON

KILGORE, Tex. — (INS) — There should be a sizeable increase in war bond and war stamp purchases this month in Kilgore.

Mayor Roy H. Laird has announced that no water or sewer bills would be mailed the citizens for the month ended August 20th.

"They may consider their September bills paid in full," the Mayor said, urging that the saving be put in war bonds and stamps.

About $7,000 was involved.

GOSLIN-FIELD

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm A. Field, of Somerton, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Doris Louise Field, to Mr. Elwood Fumler Goslin, on September 15th, at South Mills, N. C. Mr. Goslin is the son of Mrs. Elwood P. Goslin, 529 Radcliffe street, and is First Class Seaman of the U. S. Navy, having served in the Navy for two years.

LOCAL WEATHER OBSERVATIONS
FOR 24 HOUR PERIOD ENDING 8 A. M.
AT ROHM & HAAS WEATHER OBSERVATORY
BRISTOL, PA.

Temperature Readings
Maximum	73 F
Minimum	50 F
Range	23 F

Hourly Temperatures
8 a. m. yesterday	50
9	50
10	50
11	50
12 noon	67
1 p. m.	69
2	70
3	70
4	72
5	73
6	71
7	67
8	64
9	62
10	60
11	58
12 midnight	57
1 a. m. today	54
2	54
3	54
4	54
5	53
6	51
7	50
8	51

P. C. Relative Humidity ..... 81
Precipitation (inches) ..... 0

TIDES AT BRISTOL
High water ..... 1.37 a. m.; 2.03 p. m.
Low water ..... 8.41 a. m.; 9.02 p. m.

Brothers and Sisters Plan Affair For A Local Man

A farewell party was given on Saturday evening in honor of Anthony Biancosino, Logan street, by his sisters and brothers. A social time was followed by refreshments.

The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Biancosino, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Biancosino and son Dominick, Burlington, N. J.; Miss Josephine Magro, Tullytown; Mr. and Mrs. Dominick Biancosino and children, Frances, Philomena and Josephine, Mr. and Mrs. A. Placente, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Capella, Mr. and Mrs. F. Capella, Mr. and Mrs. B. Sorentino, Mr. and Mrs. P. Mazzanti and daughter Antonette, Mr. and Mrs. C. Tiberio, Mr. and Mrs. A. Magro, Mr. and Mrs. F. Bondine, Mrs. Harry Capriotti, Mrs. Theresa Ferranti, Mr. and Mrs. T. Piazza, Mrs. Anna Capriotti, the Misses Mary DiMola, Mary Monti, Theresa and Catherine Amadio, and Frank Belmont.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS NAMED FOR AUXILIARY

Mrs. Frank Cassidy, President of Langhorne Organization, Announces List

DINNER IS PLANNED

LANGHORNE, Sept. 23.—With members of American Legion Auxiliary of Jesse W. Soby Post gathered in monthly session Monday evening, Mrs. Frank Cassidy, the president, named committees for the ensuing year. The session was held in the Memorial House.

The committees are inclusive of the following members: Welfare, Mrs. James Brant, Miss Rita Keating, Mrs. James Tracy, Mrs. Blank; sick committee, Mrs. Gilbert Bonnell, Mrs. Cassidy.

Continued on Page Four

Resident of India Speaks Before Yardley Civic Club

YARDLEY, Sept. 23.—Madam Devon Bahadur Runganardun, of Madras, South India, was the guest speaker at the meeting of Yardley Civic Club held in the Yardley Community center a few nights ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Runganardun arrived in the United States about two weeks ago by clipper plane.

Mrs. Runganardun is the wife of one of the advisors of the Secretary of State for India. Having done extensive social service work in India, she has been president of the Y. W. C. A. in Madras for two years, and the first Indian woman to launch a ship for the Indian Navy.

Madam Runganardun, who took as her subject, "India and Some of Her Problems," appeared in her native costume.

The program was opened by the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" with Roy Cropper leading and Mrs. Harold N. Curtis at the piano. Mr. Cropper also rendered a number of vocal selections and Miss Marcia Contant, accompanied at the piano by Albert Ludeckek, also rendered vocal selections.

Miss Helen W. Leedom, president of the club, was in charge of a contest, "To the Gentlemen," and presented awards to Robert W. Hassell, Rev. Elwell Lake, Fred G. Satterthwaite, James White, Warren R. Smith, Durrell L. Noyes and Alfred A. Danser.

The first business session of the club will be held on October 1 in the club rooms in the municipal building at 2:15 o'clock. Mrs. Charles F. Cook will be hostess and she will have charge of the program.

RETURNS TO COLLEGE

Miss Sara A. Ellis, Lafayette street, has returned to Temple University, Philadelphia. She is enrolled as a junior in the home economics department in the Teachers' College.

CHILDREN HAVE A PART TO PLAY IN BRISTOL'S SCRAP DRIVE WHICH OPENS MONDAY NIGHT

Even If You Are A Little Boy You Can Help . . .

ANY POTS AND PANS TODAY? Anthony Marino, 5, used the hawkers' technique as he roamed the streets of New York collecting pots and pans in the drive for this vital war metal. Tony takes his job seriously for he knows that 7,700 of these pots and pans will provide enough scrap aluminum to build an American pursuit plane for our fighting men. You, too, can take part in this war job by rounding up your old junk—scrap metal, rubber.

Scrap Collection Schedule

Your air raid warden will visit you and assist you in any way in determining what is scrap metal and what is scrap rubber, and inform you as to when collection will be made in your district. Every resident is asked to join in this great endeavor, and put every piece of scrap metal and scrap rubber out at the time designated.

Collection Schedule
Monday, Sept. 28th, First Ward.
Tuesday, Sept. 29th, Third Ward.
Wednesday, Sept. 30th, Second and Fifth Wards.
Thursday, Oct. 1st, Sixth Ward.
Friday, Oct. 2nd, Fourth Ward.

Yes, little boys can help in the Bristol Scrap Drive. They get into the nooks and corners of their homes and know where the scrap metal and scrap rubber is. Much of it they undoubtedly have put there themselves. Now all little boys want to help Uncle Sam lick the Axis so here is their chance.

Little Anthony Marino, 5, New York, is doing a good job as can be seen from the picture. He went about the streets and into the highways and by-ways calling "Any pots and pans today?"

The Bristol Scrap Drive starts Monday, September 28th. Read the collection schedule elsewhere in these columns.

Are you thoroughly acquainted with the objects and purposes of Bristol joining in the nation-wide drive for scrap metals and scrap rubber? Perhaps you know the general way that the scrap metal is to be sent to the steel mills to produce the implements of war, and that the scrap rubber is to be re-processed and used for military purposes. But in order that residents in Bristol might be thoroughly acquainted with the facts a few questions and answers are herewith presented:

Q.—What are the dates of the campaign?
A.—It starts Monday, September 28th, and will close Monday, October 12th.

Q.—What is the goal?
A.—To collect and ship out 600,000 pounds of metal and rubber scrap that can be of value to the nation's war effort, thereby providing steel for Uncle Sam's vital armament industry, and rubber that can be reclaimed for the nation's war effort.

Continued on Page Two

MARRIED WOMEN APPLY FOR POSITIONS

Fourteen Apply in One Day For Positions of School Teacher in County

VACANCIES DECREASE

"The wide publicity given to the shortage of teachers in Bucks County," according to Superintendent of Bucks County Schools, Charles Boehm, "has brought in a new flood of new applications from married teachers from nearby counties. Fourteen applications were received in one day alone. Only a few of them were willing to consider vacancies in rural schools because of the lack of transportation facilities."

Continued on Page Four

BOY FOR ROBERTAS

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Dominick Robertas, Wood street, in Harriman Hospital, last evening.

Fete Lincoln Ave. Woman On Her 63rd Anniversary

A surprise party was tendered Mrs. Joseph Stracci, Lincoln avenue, Saturday evening, in honor of her 63rd birthday anniversary. The party was given by her children. Refreshments were served. The dining room was decorated in blue and white and the table centerpiece was a bouquet of cut flowers. Mrs. Stracci received many gifts.

Those present: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Manocchi, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fanini, Mr. and Mrs. Louis DiCesare, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stracci, Mr. and Mrs. Patsy Straffe, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Mucce, Mr. and Mrs. John Stracci, and Mrs. Edward Stracci, Miss Mary Quatrocci, Arthur Stracci.

"Rotary Anns" Entertained By the Bensalem Club

ANDALUSIA, Sept. 23.—"Ladies Night" was observed by Bensalem Rotarians last evening, when they entertained at dinner the "Rotary Anns" and about 10 other guests.

The dinner was served at the Penguin Flyer, with S. Penn Salmon presiding. A guest Rotarian was Otto Grupp, Jr., of Bristol club.

Group singing was indulged in; and later the company adjourned to Hansel's barn to enjoy bowling, pool, etc.

Classified Ads deliver the goods

WHAT OUR BOYS ARE DOING TO WIN THE WAR

U. S. NAVAL TRAINING STATION, NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 23.—Albert J. Jenigen, of 223 Washington street, Bristol, Pa., has completed his Apprentice Seaman-ship training at this station, and trade school. As a reward for his good record and attention to duty, he has been granted a seven day leave, and will receive his orders on his return here. It is expected that he will go to Machinist's Mate School.

Jenigen attended Bristol High School and was a machinist's helper at the Fleetwings airplane plant when he enlisted in the Naval Reserve for war service. To be a machinist's mate in the Navy, he will have to learn to operate main engines and auxiliary engines on board ship; adjust, repair and overhaul engines and other engine room equipment.

ERECTING FOUNTAIN TO HONOR THOSE IN SERVICE

St. Ann's Club Will Hold Dedication Ceremony On Sunday, October 4th

TO BE ILLUMINATED

The Bristol men and women who have entered the service of the United States are to be honored on the afternoon of October 4th when an illuminated fountain is to be unveiled and dedicated on the grounds of the St. Ann's Club, Wood and Franklin streets.

The fountain and basin are now being constructed and when completed will present a very attractive sight. On the grounds of the Club the fountain and basin occupy a site on the western side. Surrounding the basin is a wide red concrete walk on which are to be placed concrete boxes containing evergreens.

In the center of the basin there will be the fountain which will be illuminated by a rotary light throwing varied colors upon the stream of water shooting up into the air. The water in the basin will also be illuminated.

Continued on Page Four

Roy Bailey, Jr., is Guest Of Honor at A Farewell

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Houser, Jackson street, gave a party for their son, Roy Bailey, Jr., on Monday evening. The affair was given in the form of a farewell party. Roy has enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps and will leave on Friday for training. Singing and dancing were followed by refreshments. Red, white and blue decorations were used. Roy received many gifts.

Those present: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Keers, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Lovett, Mr. and Mrs. William Dougherty and family, Mrs. Harry White, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Scholl and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Houser, Miss Ruth Bailey, Bristol; Mrs. Merrill Bachofer, Mrs. George Rigby, Mrs. Elsie Carlen and Mrs. Wright Carlen, Tullytown; Miss Gretchen Evans, Edgely; Miss Anna Mullin, Miss Marie Fisher and Mrs. Carrie Hills, Trenton, N. J.

SAYS COURIER GIVES HIM ALL LOCAL NEWS

Paul Straus, With U. S. Troops In England, Enjoys Sight-Seeing

MEETS BRISTOLIANS

Paul Straus, who holds the rank of Technician Fifth Grade, in the U. S. Army, is enjoying his free time in England sight-seeing.

Young Straus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Straus, states in his most recent letter to his parents that "The Courier of course gives me all the local news I need."

His letter follows: Sept. 14, 1942.

Dear Mom and Dad: This is my 30th attempt to write. I only hope I can complete the job this time. . . . We moved our quarters again (this is the 4th time since arriving here), and of course that too helped to delay my reply.

Gee, it's great to hear that everything is running smoothly. . . . Your packages have been received O. K., that is the one containing chocolates.

Continued on Page Four

Flower Show Conducted By A Buckingham Club

BUCKINGHAM, Sept. 23.—A flower show was held in connection with the meeting of the Buckingham Farmers Club in the Grange hall, here, Saturday evening.

Mrs. Arthur Wieland served as judge, and the first, second and third place winners in the order named were as follows: miniature arrangement, Miss Mary Rice, Miss Marie H. Radcliffe, Watson Rockafellow; mantle arrangement, Miss Mary Rice, Miss Marie H. Radcliffe, Mrs. John H. Henry; dining room arrangement, Mrs. Albert E. Spratt, Mrs. Walter B. Wiley, Mrs. John H. Henry, and arrangement for hall, Mrs. Watson Rockafellow, Mrs. Walter B. Wiley and Miss Mary Rice.

The meeting, which was featured by a supper and a social hour, was attended by about 65 persons, and the business session, which opened with the singing of "Old Black Joe," was in charge of the president, Watson Rockafellow.

Hulmeville Residents Will Place A Service Flag

HULMEVILLE, Sept. 23.—Solicitation has begun in Hulmeville borough for funds which will be used to purchase a service flag to be placed at the intersection of Main and Hulme streets.

In this manner honor will be paid to all young men from the borough who are serving in the U. S. armed forces.

The flag is now being prepared with the proper numeral placed on same.

A flag raising ceremony is scheduled for Sunday, October 4th, when a suitable program will be held. Music will be provided by the Junior drum and bugle corps of the Sons of the Legion (Jesse W. Soby Post of Langhorne.)

PETER ZAKUTYSKY IS SENTENCED TO COUNTY JAIL TERM

Bristolian is Found Guilty of Charges of Assault and Battery

MASNE IS EXONERATED

Counter-Suit Heard in County Court; Jury Out But Short Time

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 23.—In a counter-suit, the case of Nicholas Masne, 52, 900 Jefferson avenue, Bristol, president of the American-Ukrainian Club, charged with aggravated assault and battery and assault and battery, and a former member, Peter Zakutysky, 286 Hayes street, Bristol, charged with assault and battery, went on trial before Judge Boyer on Monday afternoon with verdict being given yesterday.

Masne was acquitted in the case, the jury being out but a short time; and Zakutysky was found guilty of the charges. He was sentenced to serve from six months to one year in the Bucks County prison.

Nicholas Masne, president of the American-Ukrainian Club, as the first witness, testified that on April 6, Easter Sunday evening about 11 o'clock, Peter Zakutysky came to the clubhouse and demanded entrance although he was no longer a member, having been expelled from the club more than two years ago.

"When I told Zakutysky that he couldn't come in here he began to swing at me and said 'You son-of-a-bitch' I have been waiting for this," he began to swing at me and struck me over the right eye, breaking my glasses and pushing my cigar down my throat," said the president of the club.

Some time later Zakutysky came back to the club house to be admitted and this time both men became involved in a fight and had to be separated by members of the club and their wives who were leaving the club house.

President Masne denied that he struck Zakutysky with either his hands or a "beer bottle."

"I served as the peacekeeper one time at a Ukrainian picnic when Zakutysky was present."

Continued on Page Two

Two Who Are in Service Honored at Newportville

NEWPORTVILLE, Sept. 23.—A party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Becker, Fergusonville, Saturday evening, in honor of Charles Headley, Jr., who enlisted in the U. S. Navy. The decorations were red, white, and blue. Games were played and refreshments were served.

Those present: The Misses Ruth Miller, Gloria Briegel, Janice Reiner, Langhorne; Miss Margaret Diegel, Hulmeville; Walter Prickett, Bath Road; the Misses Leora Wood, Eileen Daugherty, Peggy Elders; Messrs. Everett Headley, Charles Headley, John Rigney, Fred Wimmersberger, George Wood, John and Herman Becker, Newportville.

The group presented Charles with a small radio.

The Newportville Fire Company presented Charles Headley and George Wood each with a pen and pencil set. George Wood enlisted in the Navy a few months ago and is home on furlough, and Charles Headley left for naval service on Sunday.

SERVICE LEAGUE TO MEET

EDDINGTON, Sept. 23.—The Mothers Service League will conduct a meeting tomorrow evening at 8:30 in the parish house of Christ Church, here. All mothers of boys in the service who reside in this area are invited to join the organization.

One Man's Opinion By Walter Klerman (I. N. S. Staff Writer)

Ladies—would you like to lose 20 pounds or more easily and comfortably? Get into the scrap.

Uncle Sam needs scrap metal and right now!

Throw in those old flatirons and waffle irons and curling irons and anything else you can spare from the house. You'll lose 20 pounds or more easily and comfortably—20 pounds of junk.

Your house, apartment or flat will look and feel years younger.

An iron fence won't keep Hitler out of your yard.

A busted electric fan won't blow Hirohito off your doorstep.

An abandoned hot water boiler won't drown Mussolini in your basement.

But in combination with the scrap metals of your neighbors they'll fashion the tools to slap down those three baddies and all their evil hordes.

Thought for the day: Get into the scrap today!

LATEST NEWS BULLETINS

Important Victory Recorded in Taking Convoy to Russia

LONDON—A strong indication that the British Navy and Merchant Marine recorded an important victory in bringing a convoy through to Russia despite heavy German air and sea opposition was given today by the naval expert of the London Daily Mail.

Official circles a few days ago labeled as "grossly exaggerated" Nazi claims that 41 vessels, including escort ships, were sunk while in Arctic waters on their way to a Russian port.

The naval expert said that "indications are growing" that the Arctic convoy battle was a "triumph for the British navy and merchant service."

He further pointed out that it could be assumed that the convoy was not engaged by a German naval squadron headed by the 35,000-ton battleship Tirpitz. Official reports have placed the Tirpitz in Norwegian waters.

Train U. S. Occupation Army To Move Into Areas Wrested From Nazis

New York—A U. S. army of occupation is now being trained to move into any area wrested from the Axis, it was disclosed today.

"All of our former military governments were hastily improvised. This time there shall be ready a corps of military and civilian personnel capable of forming a military government without lost motion," Major General Allen W. Guillon, Provost Marshal, declared.

"To prevent complete anarchy and to safeguard its own military interests," an invading American army must assume control of all civilian as well as military activities in occupied areas, he stated.

The Bristol Courier

Established 1910
Published Every Evening (Except Sunday) at Beaver and Garden Sts., Bristol, Pa., Bell Phone 846
Only Daily Paper in Lower Bucks County

BRISTOL PRINTING COMPANY
Owner and Publisher
Incorporated May 27, 1914
Serrill D. DeLoach, President
Serrill D. DeLoach, Managing Editor
Ellis E. Ratcliffe, Secretary
Lester D. Thorne, Treasurer
Subscription Price per Year, 10 advanced, $10.00; Six Months, $5.00; Three Months, $3.00.
The Courier is delivered by carrier in Bristol, Edgely, Tullytown, Bridgewater, Croydon, Andalusia, West Bristol, Hulmeville, Bath Addition, New-portville and Torredale Manor for ten cents a week.

JOB PRINTING
The Courier has the most complete commercial printing department in Bucks County. Work of any description promptly and satisfactorily done.
Entered as Second Class Mail matter at the Post Office at Bristol, Pa.
"International News Service has the exclusive rights to use for publication in any form all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper. It is also exclusively entitled to use for publication all the local or undated news published herein."

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1942

Republican Ticket

For Governor
General Edward Martin
For Lieut. Governor
John C. Bell, Jr.
For Secretary of Internal Affairs
William S. Livenood, Jr.
For Judge of the Supreme Court
Allen M. Stearns
For Judge of the Superior Court
Joseph Stadfeld
For Representative in Congress-at-Large
William I. Troutman
For Representative in Congress, 9th
District
Hon. Charles L. Gerlach
For Senator in the General Assembly
Hon. Howard I. James
For Representative in General Assembly
Wilson L. Yeakel
Thomas B. Stockham
For Member of State Committee
10th District
A. Harry Clayton
Eleanor D. Worthington

DRAFT NERVE STRAIN

Millions of American families who have menfolk within the immediate prospect of Army draft and who depend upon the almost daily Washington pronouncements regarding the draft for final and authentic information, are living in a state of harrowing uneasiness.

One day it is General Hershey entirely contradicting what he and others who are supposed to be in authority have said. Then it is Representative May, chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee, or Secretary Stimson, or Secretary Knox, of the President at an informal press conference.

Surely the top men in Washington are not as fickle or as superficial or as reckless with the nation's man power as they seem to be. Surely they cannot be so callous as to continue this nerve-racking uncertainty.

Of course, the exigencies of the war may change anything and everything. But the people should not be tortured over the fate of their loved ones. They want to serve, and are willing to go bankrupt, or die, if this war will be prosecuted to victory. But it is cruel to keep them—deliberately or thoughtlessly—in constant sleepless apprehension, with its inevitable lowering of morale and efficiency, over the draft.

HELP FROM KITCHEN

It will be remembered that in the period of the First World War the Southern states were swayed under a surplus of cotton and to ease the burden some one started a "buy a bale" movement. It is not of record that this movement helped the situation much. A bale of cotton is quite a bundle for the average individual to handle after acquiring it.

It may prove different with a bag of flour, for which a movement is in the making. It was started by Philip Pillsbury, president of the Pillsbury Flour Mills Company.

In a letter to stockholders, Mr. Pillsbury says that by a little kitchen storage every American housewife can help save a part of this year's tremendous surplus wheat crop. For every 49-pound sack of flour which American housewives put away in their kitchens, more than a bushel of wheat can be moved to better storage. Mr. Pillsbury explains that this would not be hoarding—it would be highly helpful.

Whether some of the boys in Washington would agree with this, regardless of the surplus of wheat, is of course another matter.

Laval may turn Dakar over to Hitler, it is hinted. The play then would be from Hitler to the Allies.

NEWS BRIEFS FROM SUBURBAN TOWNS

HULMEVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Thomsen, who have been residing in Hulmeville Park, are now occupying the house on Main street recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Nowicki.

Corp. James E. Haik arrived home on Friday evening for two days' visit. He is now stationed at Fort Dix, N. J., being transferred last week from Fort Jackson, S. C.

The club of which she is a member was entertained last evening by Mrs. Harry Beck.

On Monday evening the Rev. Wilmer E. Harkness was host at his home to members of the official board of Ne-shaminy Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Vornhold entertained over the week-end at their summer home at Seaside Park, N. J., the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. George Carter, Parkland; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Phipps, Hulmeville; and Wendell Woodman, who is stationed at Manhattan Beach, N. Y.

NEWPORTVILLE

Mrs. A. Tibbitts arranged a family dinner party on Sunday in honor of her son George, with about 15 being served. On Monday, George will leave for Princeton Seminary, Princeton, N. J., where he will continue his studies for the ministry.

Miss Mary J. Given is training as a nurse at St. Luke's Hospital, Philadelphia.

TULLYTOWN

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Roberts announce the birth of a daughter, Saturday, at Dr. Wagner's private hospital, Bristol. Mrs. Roberts is the former Miss Evelyn Gerhart.

Christopher A. Johnson is a patient at Hahnemann Hospital, Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Slager and son Paul, Jr., Bristol, were Sunday visitors of the former's mother, Mrs. Catherine Slager.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Clay spent Wednesday and Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Corriden, Perth Amboy, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hirdst, Lakehurst, have been visiting Mrs. Victoria Pirolli.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Cavin and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Leedom spent Sunday visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Cavin, Penns Grove, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nardone, Philadelphia, were recent guests of Mrs. Domenica Luzzi.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bailey announced the birth of a daughter, Judith Hope, at Dr. Wagner's private hospital, Bristol, on Wednesday, September 16th. Mrs. Bailey was formerly Miss Julia Spangler.

Mrs. Samuel Gaskill spent Friday visiting relatives in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Lawrence Spangler has returned home after spending some time with relatives in Harrisburg, where she was called by the illness and death of her father.

Mrs. Elsie Walters returned home after being a patient for several days at the Abington Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Helen Nichols and daughter, Miss Edith Nichols, spent Wednesday visiting in Trenton.

Mrs. William Swangler spent the week-end visiting relatives in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wolvin have moved from Bristol to Lovett avenue.

Peter Zakutsky Is Sentenced To County Jail Term

Continued From Page One

utsky got into a fight that time," said Masne.

Mrs. Anna Lewinsky, Magnolia rd., Bristol township, who was one of the women leaving the club house, said she did not see Masne hitting Zakutsky.

Roman Karajin, Bristol, R. D. 1, 57-year-old bartender at the club, testified he didn't see either the first or second altercation between the two men.

Character witnesses for Masne included James Daniels, 538 Bath street; James Wheeler, Bristol storekeeper, and W. J. Stroble, 203 Cedar street, also of Bristol.

Officer Daniel Ferry, Bristol Police Sergeant, testified that he was called to the club house and that he saw Masne and Zakutsky have a hold of one another and he told Zakutsky, "Pete, you get out of here. You are not a member and you know you are not wanted."

"Both men had their glasses broken," Officer Ferry said.

Peter Zakutsky, a machinist, taking the stand in his own behalf, said: "Some member of the club had invited me to come to the club house, and when I got there the door was locked. Masne, after opening the door, said, 'Pete, you know, you aren't allowed in here. I told you, you son-of-a-bitch, you are not wanted in here and he began hitting me,'" testified Zakutsky.

"Nick Masne hit me with a beer bottle and the beer splashed all over me. I went back the second time to settle for my broken glasses," testified Zakutsky.

Senator Howard I. James and J. Leslie Kilcoyne are counsel for Masne, and the former served as a character witness for Masne.

Mr. Kilcoyne, upon cross-examining Zakutsky, asked him whether he wasn't convicted of assault and battery February 5, 1929, before Judge William C. Ryan and also of drunken driving February 4, 1933, in court here.

"Yes," admitted Zakutsky.

Dr. Frank Lehman, Bristol physician, testified that he treated Zakutsky for injuries after he had been treated at the Harriman Hospital some time previous.

Members of the jury include Anna Kathryn Shelly, Sellersville; Nora P.

Pilgrim in MANHATTAN by MARGARET BELL HOUSTON

CHAPTER TWENTY-ONE

Rann's promised list arrived that week, mailed by his secretary, and Chloe settled down to write her letters. Tandy's drawings for the letterhead, done in color, came out clear and clean. The Lady from Dixie was in the center, and her skirts went up so much room that the others had each to drop down a step in succession, making the letterhead almost semicircular. Underneath it was printed in Old English script: Chloë Cameron, Artist's Agent, 12-a Tuckaway Street, New York City. And her telephone number.

Before her letters had gone, there came a note from the Morningside Home for the Aged, asking that Miss Dwyer repeat her Jack Rabbit program there. "Some of our members heard Miss Dwyer at the Good Friend's House."

Chloe added a postscript to the letter already addressed to the Morningside Home. "Since some of your members have already heard Miss Dwyer, let us recommend Miss Pamela James in her cowboy songs."

She had with her everything that would be needed for Miss James—the cowboy boots, lasso, etc.

Actually another letter came. A Newsboys' Club in the Bowery would like to see the Rabbit act. I'm getting typed, thought Chloe in alarm. She telephoned the Newsboys, endeavoring to sell them Miss James or the Indian. Their secretary promised to submit the idea; but one of the boys had a pal at the Good Friend's House who had heard Miss Dwyer.

Chloe held the letter under the noses of Nick and Tandy.

"Getting paid?" they demanded in one voice.

"My prices are quoted in my letters," replied Chloe. "And here's another."

Nick and Tandy having been properly subdued, she went over to Gay's place to talk over more costumes. She had decided to form a company, taking in Gay and Hugh—should Hugh be amenable. There was much that Hugh could do, besides filling what reading engagements she could get for him. He could type, for one thing, and a man's voice on the telephone would give the fiber to the company. Gay would be the costume-maker and also keep the costumes in repair.

Gay, who was doing nothing at all right now, agreed at once, and they planned the costume for the Lady from Dixie—peach-colored satin with knots of blue flowers. Gay knew where they could get the satin cheap. They planned Mammy Beulah's costume, too.

Hugh surprised Chloe in his reception of the clean breast she made. Sitting before the fire one evening after dinner, she showed him her letterhead. They had been considering what poems he should read at the Vespers if Chloe's plan for him went through.

Explaining the letterhead, she anticipated a hot discussion of ethics. Instead, he seemed amused. "When you get caught, Chloe, I hope you'll be game."

She thought, I don't want to lose Rann Sturgis' friendship. But why should I be caught? Why should he be at any of these places?

Hugh said after a moment, "I'd like to see your verses."

She had dreaded that. "They aren't like yours," she said, knowing that he had not expected them to be like his.

When they parted for the night she brought Songs of the Trail from her desk and gave it to him.

"And now what's the news?" Rann asked, having called her on the telephone the day he got back. She had written thanking him for his gift, had received a note in answer, and twice he had called from Washington for a friendly chat and to hear how the agency was coming along.

Much had happened while he was gone. She had done the Rabbit for the Newsboys' Club—they had stood by their choice—and the cowgirl for the Morningside Home. Gay and Hugh went with her to the Newsboys' Club. Nick and Tandy got there later.

Nick praised the jumps. And he would never have known her. Nor would Tandy. "Not even your voice," they said.

"Would you have known me?" Chloe asked Hugh.

"How can I tell?" he replied with a singular lack of imagination. "I knew it was you."

That was how Gay felt. "But I'd forget it was you once in a while."

And then, one windy, slippery night, she had gone with Nick (she wouldn't let Hugh venture out) to the remote fastnesses of Flatbush, and had given the Mammy Beulah songs and tales to a group of crippled children. There were orders ahead for the Indian and the Rabbit.

Chloe was thrilled with her success. Besides, Hugh had praised Songs of the Trail. "Interesting verses," he had said, "and with a certain charm." He spoke with the condescension that a writer of poems necessarily bestows upon a writer of verses. Still, it was praise, and more than she had expected. Some day she would show him the Journal.

He had liked the book she gave him at Christmas—a thin, yellowed copy of Baudelaire's Petite Poésies en Prose. She hadn't had time to translate much of it—just a bit (while Rann was exploring another musty corner of the shop) from "Favours of the Moon": "The Moon, who is caprice itself, looked in through the window while you were sleeping in your crib and whispered: 'Here is a child after my own soul...'" But that was enough. She knew it belonged to Hugh.

In the stocking he asked her to hang from her mantel, she had found a bracelet on Christmas morning. An exquisitely smooth silver hoop, set with Indian opals, lustrous and pale, with fire in their hearts.

"Opals are bad luck," Gay said. "If you weren't born in October."

And she worried, for Chloe wore the bracelet all the time.

But after that, good luck had begun to come, even to the selling of a poem.

And Desert-Born had gone out and hadn't come back—yet. She was trying not to think about it. Hugh was so encouraged that he was writing again—a play this time, something that had been in the back of his mind a long time.

The day after Christmas, Chloe had repeated the inevitable Rabbit at the Good Friends' House. A small boy with his arm in a cast and his leg in a traction splint from some traffic accident had requested it, having missed her first performance. She had gone without charge—then, and several times since.

He was called Boote, and had a room all to himself.

"Miss Dwyer has fallen in love with him." She almost forgot to make it Miss Dwyer in sifting these items when Rann asked for news. Her heart was singing as it always sang when she talked with him.

She said, "I want to talk with you about the artist I spoke of. I'm sure I've got the right one."

"All right," said Rann. "Hope springs eternal."

That morning she had said to Hugh, "I want you to come along when I offer you to Rann Sturgis. I can make a better talk with you on hand," but he had refused to go.

Chloe could imagine Hugh now, locked in his room, typing away on his play... How could she describe him? How make Rann realize what she had in him? Selling a poet would probably be as difficult as selling his poetry. And to sell him, sight unseen... I'll take some of his poems along, she decided.

"I'm tied up today," Rann was saying. "How about dinner somewhere? Will that be overtime for you?"

"Don't tell the union," Chloe answered.

He said that he would come for her at seven.

A log fire was burning, and there were smoked rafters and walls paneled in weathered oak, and pewter plates on the mantel. Narrow oaken booths inclosed tables with red-checked cloths, and all the light there was came from the fire and the fat candles in their squat pewter holders.

"I'm hungry," Rann had said. "Could you stand a real shore dinner?"

Could she! They had driven across the Tri-borough Bridge and into a pocket beside the Sound. Here was a boating and fishing club with a Dutch name and a portly manager who looked like a sea captain, and who welcomed Rann with special joy, finding them a booth near the fire, taking their wraps, bringing them huge bills of fare, and strongly recommending the lobster.

They had the floor almost alone when they danced, moving together in perfect unison. He was an excellent dancer.

It was a mesmeric retreat, but she was not going to neglect Hugh. Come the crab, I'm going to introduce him, she decided.

"You know," said Rann, when they sat again at the table. "I'm glad you like this place. I thought you would."

The music came, and so did the crab soufflé.

She spoke of her new artist.

"What's he like?" Rann asked. And she had described Hugh as best she could, "Something of a glamour boy, isn't he?"

"Not at all," she answered. "But then, it's not what he looks like that matters, is it? It's his poetry, and the way he reads it."

"And his poems," said Rann, "are all they should be, no doubt."

She did not like his tone. It was as if the door were closed on Hugh without his having been either seen or heard. But then Rann had referred for Miss Vesper. It was a peculiar occasion, as he had said.

"I never heard of him," Rann remarked in the silence.

"That's what makes him new," she said.

(To be continued)

Copyright by Margaret Bell Houston.

Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Holmes, Doylestown; Albert M. Halde-man, Eddington; Ruth D. Shobert, Chalfont; Franklin Mann, Jr., Perkaskie; George C. Lyons, Cornwells Heights; Marian E. High, Plumsteadville; R. Randolph Pursel, Mechanicsville; Ernest Barsley, Almont; Alysse W. Reid, Trevose, and Harold U. Miliken, Perkaskie.

George Lambert, 18, and Howard Dutton, 18, of Newtown, pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny and receiving stolen goods. They admitted stealing some small articles of jewelry from Mrs. Ada Page while she was moving from her home in Newtown.

Lambert was formerly committed to Kislun Reformatory where he spent two years. His father and a brother are in the United States Army. Young Lambert makes $35 a week as a carpenter's helper.

This was Dutton's first time in court.

Sentence was suspended on both cases and the boys placed on probation in charge of Probation Officer Horace E. Gwinner.

Children Have a Part to Play In Bristol's Scrap Drive

Continued From Page One

Q—Why is it necessary to salvage scrap iron while there are great deposits of iron that could be acquired through mining processes?

A—Most of the nation's steel mills are designed for a process which requires approximately 50 per cent of scrap iron. To convert this process to one which would use raw materials exclusively would require huge quantities of critical materials plus a great amount of labor which cannot be spared at this time. We must depend on the present processes—and those must have scrap metal.

Q—Is the Courier sponsoring the scrap drive?

A—No—the United States Government is sponsoring it through the Salvage Division of the W. P. A. The Bristol Scrap Salvage Committee is conducting the drive locally. The net proceeds derived from the sale of the scrap will be used to buy equipment needed by the air raid wardens and emergency police of Bristol.

Q—What is my responsibility as an individual?

A—If you are a Bristol resident your responsibility is to comb your premises (and join in the hunt at the office or plant), and see that every ounce of available material is out in front of your place at the time designated so it can be picked up by the trucks.

The Great Game of Politics

Continued From Page One

THE WHOLE trend of the War and Navy Departments is to prevent the disclosure of any facts, financial or otherwise, concerning production. Obviously, an analysis of such facts might give valuable information to the enemy. The proposed revision of the SEC is in direct conflict with this trend. It seems clear that if our armed forces are to be adequately supplied it must be through the complete concentration of the management and employees of American industry on doing that job. For the Government to take any action which would distract them plays directly into the hands of Hitler.

RECOGNITION of this basic fact led to the adoption of the Government policy for continuance of the anti-trust suits until after the war. There was slight dissent from this policy, except in the case of the Aluminum Company of America, where the recent appeal seems hardly an example of governmental

recognition of this basic fact led to the adoption of the Government policy for continuance of the anti-trust suits until after the war. There was slight dissent from this policy, except in the case of the Aluminum Company of America, where the recent appeal seems hardly an example of governmental

recognition of this basic fact led to the adoption of the Government policy for continuance of the anti-trust suits until after the war. There was slight dissent from this policy, except in the case of the Aluminum Company of America, where the recent appeal seems hardly an example of governmental

recognition of this basic fact led to the adoption of the Government policy for continuance of the anti-trust suits until after the war. There was slight dissent from this policy, except in the case of the Aluminum Company of America, where the recent appeal seems hardly an example of governmental

recognition of this basic fact led to the adoption of the Government policy for continuance of the anti-trust suits until after the war. There was slight dissent from this policy, except in the case of the Aluminum Company of America, where the recent appeal seems hardly an example of governmental

recognition of this basic fact led to the adoption of the Government policy for continuance of the anti-trust suits until after the war. There was slight dissent from this policy, except in the case of the Aluminum Company of America, where the recent appeal seems hardly an example of governmental

recognition of this basic fact led to the adoption of the Government policy for continuance of the anti-trust suits until after the war. There was slight dissent from this policy, except in the case of the Aluminum Company of America, where the recent appeal seems hardly an example of governmental

recognition of this basic fact led to the adoption of the Government policy for continuance of the anti-trust suits until after the war. There was slight dissent from this policy, except in the case of the Aluminum Company of America, where the recent appeal seems hardly an example of governmental

recognition of this basic fact led to the adoption of the Government policy for continuance of the anti-trust suits until after the war. There was slight dissent from this policy, except in the case of the Aluminum Company of America, where the recent appeal seems hardly an example of governmental

recognition of this basic fact led to the adoption of the Government policy for continuance of the anti-trust suits until after the war. There was slight dissent from this policy, except in the case of the Aluminum Company of America, where the recent appeal seems hardly an example of governmental

recognition of this basic fact led to the adoption of the Government policy for continuance of the anti-trust suits until after the war. There was slight dissent from this policy, except in the case of the Aluminum Company of America, where the recent appeal seems hardly an example of governmental

recognition of this basic fact led to the adoption of the Government policy for continuance of the anti-trust suits until after the war. There was slight dissent from this policy, except in the case of the Aluminum Company of America, where the recent appeal seems hardly an example of governmental

recognition of this basic fact led to the adoption of the Government policy for continuance of the anti-trust suits until after the war. There was slight dissent from this policy, except in the case of the Aluminum Company of America, where the recent appeal seems hardly an example of governmental

recognition of this basic fact led to the adoption of the Government policy for continuance of the anti-trust suits until after the war. There was slight dissent from this policy, except in the case of the Aluminum Company of America, where the recent appeal seems hardly an example of governmental

recognition of this basic fact led to the adoption of the Government policy for continuance of the anti-trust suits until after the war. There was slight dissent from this policy, except in the case of the Aluminum Company of America, where the recent appeal seems hardly an example of governmental

recognition of this basic fact led to the adoption of the Government policy for continuance of the anti-trust suits until after the war. There was slight dissent from this policy, except in the case of the Aluminum Company of America, where the recent appeal seems hardly an example of governmental

recognition of this basic fact led to the adoption of the Government policy for continuance of the anti-trust suits until after the war. There was slight dissent from this policy, except in the case of the Aluminum Company of America, where the recent appeal seems hardly an example of governmental

recognition of this basic fact led to the adoption of the Government policy for continuance of the anti-trust suits until after the war. There was slight dissent from this policy, except in the case of the Aluminum Company of America, where the recent appeal seems hardly an example of governmental

recognition of this basic fact led to the adoption of the Government policy for continuance of the anti-trust suits until after the war. There was slight dissent from this policy, except in the case of the Aluminum Company of America, where the recent appeal seems hardly an example of governmental

recognition of this basic fact led to the adoption of the Government policy for continuance of the anti-trust suits until after the war. There was slight dissent from this policy, except in the case of the Aluminum Company of America, where the recent appeal seems hardly an example of governmental

recognition of this basic fact led to the adoption of the Government policy for continuance of the anti-trust suits until after the war. There was slight dissent from this policy, except in the case of the Aluminum Company of America, where the recent appeal seems hardly an example of governmental

recognition of this basic fact led to the adoption of the Government policy for continuance of the anti-trust suits until after the war. There was slight dissent from this policy, except in the case of the Aluminum Company of America, where the recent appeal seems hardly an example of governmental

recognition of this basic fact led to the adoption of the Government policy for continuance of the anti-trust suits until after the war. There was slight dissent from this policy, except in the case of the Aluminum Company of America, where the recent appeal seems hardly an example of governmental

recognition of this basic fact led to the adoption of the Government policy for continuance of the anti-trust suits until after the war. There was slight dissent from this policy, except in the case of the Aluminum Company of America, where the recent appeal seems hardly an example of governmental

recognition of this basic fact led to the adoption of the Government policy for continuance of the anti-trust suits until after the war. There was slight dissent from this policy, except in the case of the Aluminum Company of America, where the recent appeal seems hardly an example of governmental

recognition of this basic fact led to the adoption of the Government policy for continuance of the anti-trust suits until after the war. There was slight dissent from this policy, except in the case of the Aluminum Company of America, where the recent appeal seems hardly an example of governmental

good faith, until the recent action of the SEC. Naturally, it has created resentment. For one thing, it is claimed, there is no justifiable purpose behind the plan. The Government already takes care of undue profits through taxation. The rights of minority stockholders are already protected and no convincing argument as to what the commission wants to achieve is put out with the plan.

BUT, EVEN if the plan had merit, it certainly is badly timed. Clearly, it is the sort of thing that ought to wait until after the war. As it is, if it is pushed, these corporations will be confronted

Parties

Social Events

Activities

Junior Club Year Is To Officially Open October 8

With meetings scheduled on the second Thursday of each month, the Bristol Junior Travel Club will officially open its season on October 8th.

The speaker at this, the first evening meeting of the year, will be a representative of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Husbands and friends of members will be invited as guests.

Hostesses and social committee members have been listed for each meeting by the club, and hand books for the season distributed.

On the 12th of November a program dealing with South America will be given. The 12th anniversary party is arranged for December 10th.

A supper, with impersonations, is to take place on the seventh of January; while on the 11th of February a quiz and song fest will be scheduled. At the latter the current events committee members will be hostesses.

The March session will be a United Service Organization program; and on April 8th election of officers will precede a book review.

May 13th is the date set for entertainment of the seniors; and on June 10th a picnic supper is to be held.

The club officers are inclusive of: President, Mrs. J. C. McCarron; recording secretary, Mrs. John Smoyer, 3d; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Francis Bossler; treasurer, Miss Arabelle Barrett; junior advisor, Mrs. John Bowen.

Chairmen of committees for the term include: Program, Mrs. Edward Priestley; finance, Miss Katherine Weik; philanthropic, Mrs. Robert Wright; fine arts, Mrs. Theodore Monahan; membership, secret; scholarship, Miss Phyllis Kallenbach; publicity, Miss Ann McGee; hospitality, Miss Ruth Blanche; current events, Mrs. Thomas Coles; transportation, Miss Rita Duffy; gift, Miss Jeanette Hill.

In a Personal Way - - -

INTERESTING bits of news mainly about people you know. A chronicle of the activities of the people of Bristol; their goings and comings. - - -

To arrange for publication of wedding notices, telephone The Bristol Courier, Bristol 316, notifying at least a few days in advance the date of ceremony. Business announcements must be submitted in writing.

Mrs. Anna Whitely is ill at her home on Jefferson avenue.

Miss Eleanor Avery, Jefferson avenue, is paying a visit with relatives at Blenheim, N. Y.

Miss Doris Hendricks, Linden, N. J., a former Bristol resident, spent the week-end visiting relatives and friends here.

Miss Jane Weir, Jefferson avenue, was a guest over the week-end of friends at West Chester.

Wayne Fry, who is stationed at Quantico, Va., spent the week-end with his father, Roy Fry, Jefferson avenue.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Sampsel, of Carlisle, were week-end guests of Mrs. Sampsel's mother, Mrs. Morris Harrison, Radcliffe street.

Mrs. G. A. Coon, Jefferson avenue, is a guest this week of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Reed, Scranton.

Miss Mary Winifred Edwards has returned to Somerset Hospital, Somerville, N. J., where she is a student nurse, following several days' visit with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Elbertson, Bath street; and her father, Henry Edwards, of Langhorne.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Heath, Sr., Bath Road, have returned from several weeks' visit with relatives in Rumford, Me.

Mrs. Stanley Keers and granddaughter, Patricia Lebo, Trenton avenue, spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wood, Newportville, George Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wood, U. S. Navy, who is stationed at Newport, R. I., has been spending 12 days' furlough with his parents. He will now attend school in New York.

Miss Ruth Campbell, Jackson street, spent Wednesday until Sunday with relatives in Trenton, N. J.

Joseph McCracken, Philadelphia, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Mau-

Today's Quiet Moment

(By the Rev. James R. Galley)

Pastor, Bristol Presbyterian Church

O God, the King of Men and the Lord of Youth, without whom we can do nothing but with whom we can do anything, help us by thy grace to clean minded and true hearted living. Save us from our easily besetting sins: slothfulness of mind, neglect of soul, indifference to the rights and needs of others. In the hour of carnal desire, when the inner light grows dim and darkness steals across the mind, make us remember those we love, and fix our minds on purity and honor and truth. Help us to fight the good fight in thy strength and to the glory. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

rice Roche, Locust street.

Mr. and Mrs. George Campbell, Ocean City, N. J., were Friday guests of Miss Laura McCoy, Cedar street.

Sunday guests were Mrs. Helen Hudson and Mrs. George Duble, Ocean City.

Mrs. Jane Barton, Fallsington, spent a day the latter part of the week with Mr. and Mrs. Harvey L. Danfield, Beaver street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lawrence, Jr., and family, Torresdale, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Myers, Otter street.

Mrs. H. Stevens, Trenton, N. J., was a guest during the past week of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence S. McCoy, Bath street.

Sunday guests of Mrs. Anna Moran, Dorrance street, were Mr. and Mrs. James Nichols and daughter Dorothy, Mayfair, Mr. and Mrs. John McKenna, Philadelphia, were Thursday guests of Mrs. Moran.

A. J. Rossert, who has been residing at Bath and Otter streets for the past six months, has returned to his home in Kansas City, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Cerruti have moved from Trenton, N. J., to Barry Place.

Naomi Tomlinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tomlinson, Walnut street, has been ill since Friday.

Miss Frances Tertione and Anthony Tertione, Wilmington, Del., week-ended with Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Messinelli, Pond street.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Spadaccini and daughter Mildred attended the marriage of a relative, Miss Florence Fontaine, in Philadelphia, on Sunday.

The past week was spent by Mrs. Rose Nocito and son James, of Franklin street, at Camp Wheeler, Ga., visiting the former's son, Pvt. Joseph Nocito.

ON THE SCREENS

GRAND THEATRE

Sergeant Alvin C. York is one of America's greatest soldier heroes. The motion picture based on his life story is one of the great American pictures of all time. "Sergeant York" is a surprisingly beautiful film, produced with dignity and simplicity, and absorbingly entertaining in every inch of its footage.

Gary Cooper plays the title role, and the lean and lanky actor gives a performance that can only be called great. He makes every scene count in building up the strong, simple character of the Tennessee farmer who became the nation's hero. His fine outstanding performance won him the Academy Award.

RITZ THEATRE

It took Johnny Downs 15 years to achieve a childhood ambition. Starred in "All-American Co-ed," now at the Ritz Theatre, Johnny attained a goal that he had set for himself back in 1926. Fifteen years ago Johnny was a member of the famous "Our Gang" comedy team. He told Mr. Roach that he wanted some day to come back and work for him as a full-fledged star. "Kid Glove Killer" also shows today at the Ritz.

BRISTOL THEATRE

Ralph Bellamy, celebrated for his screen roles as the man who doesn't get the girl, woos Irene Dunne for the second time in "Lady in a Jam," now playing at the Bristol Theatre. Bellamy, born in Chicago, starred, literally, in New York before he got his break on Broadway. But when he hit, he did a solid job of it.

A suspenseful murder mystery that they say defies the efforts of the most skillful amateur detectives to solve will be seen at the Bristol Theatre, where it is scheduled to be shown today. It is "The Panther's Claw."

Farewell Arranged For Man Entering Marine Corps

A farewell party was held for Jay Hart, McKinley street, Wednesday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Minkema, Edgely. Mr. Hart, who enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps, left on Thursday for Parris Island, S. C. The guests present presented Mr. Hart with a leather military kit. Jackson Bauer, Croydon, made the presentation. Refreshments were served to Mr.

and Mrs. Clyde Hart, the Misses Ruth Hart, Ida Roberts, Vera and Esther Tomlinson, Dorothy Waters, Grace Downing, Evelyn DenBleyker, Pearl and Betty Greenlee, Katharine Arnold; Mrs. Elwood Dyer, Mrs. Lehman Strauss, Mrs. Maris Hart, Elwood Dyer, Walter Tomlinson, William Winfrey, Ronald Argus, Harold DenBleyker, Bristol; Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Bauer and daughter Joan, Mr. and Mrs. John Bauer, Croydon; Mrs. Thomas Bowers, Ruth, Frank and Elva Bowers, Trenton, N. J.; Grace Barth and Lorraine Runyon, Eddington.

CHICAGO—(INS)—Newspapers may criticize their new liberal government in Venezuela, but they must temper their comment with respect.

In Chicago on a United States tour, Dr. Mariana Picon Salas asserted policies have been liberalized since the country was freed of dictatorship, but added that it is still an offense to publish an article showing lack of respect for the president or the government.

Coming to the GRAND THEATRE THURSDAY, FRIDAY and SATURDAY

YOU'VE NEVER SEEN ANYTHING LIKE IT!

From their primitive love Paradise, untamed Tarzan and his jungle mate come to the Big City on the trail of kidnapped Boy! It's the most amazing Tarzan picture ever filmed!

THE DEATH-DEFYING LEAP FROM BROOKLYN BRIDGE!

1000 NEW THRILLS!

JUNGLE GOLD ON THE GREAT WHITE WAY!

TARZAN SWINGS FROM SKYSCRAPERS!

HE TAKES THE LAW INTO HIS OWN HANDS!

with John SHEFFIELD, Virginia GREY, Charles BICKFORD, Paul KELLY, Chill WILLS

Screen Play by William R. Lipman and Myles Connelly • From a Story by Myles Connelly Directed by RICHARD THORPE Produced by Frederick Stephani

TARZAN'S NEW YORK ADVENTURE

Johnny WEISSMULLER
Maureen O'SULLIVAN

Bristol
BUREAU COUNTY'S FINEST

2- BIG HITS -2

Did she do wrong? Well... she didn't do bad... I did!

Lady in a Jam
PATRIC KNOWLES
RALPH BELLAMY
EUGENE PALLETTE
Quentin Vassar

The Perfect Crime... Almost!

The Panther's Claw
BLACKBERRY
PLUS! "Merrie Melodie" "Late News"

Ritz Theatre

CROYDON, PA.

When you're discouraged, just think of a German with a couple sons in the Army.

Meet GORDON MCKAY
Super-sleuth of Science!
His microscope is more deadly than gangland guns! He's tops for thrill!

KID GLOVE KILLER
with VAN HEFLIN
MARSHA HUNT • BOWMAN
Also Johnny Downs
'ALL AMERICAN CO-ED'

Friday & Saturday
'THE SPOILERS'
Marlene Dietrich, John Wayne, Randolph Scott

GRAND WEDNESDAY—Last Times
Bargain Matinee Today at 2:15

GARY Cooper
as SERGEANT YORK

A NEW WARNER BROS. TRIUMPH with WALTER BRENNAN • JOAN LESLIE
GEORGE TOBIAS • STANLEY RIDGES
A HOWARD HAWKS PRODUCTION
Produced by Jesse L. Lasky and Hal B. Wallis

NOTE:—Owing to the length of this great production, we advise you to come and be seated early, in order that you and others may fully enjoy this great entertainment.

WANTED

YOUNG MEN WITH A IV-F DRAFT CLASSIFICATION TO BECOME MAINTENANCE APPRENTICES

—at—

ROHM & HAAS COMPANY

Bristol, Pa.

Please Make Application at The Gate

SERGEANT PAT OF RADIO PATROL

By EDDIE SULLIVAN and CHARLIE SCHMIDT

THE ENTIRE "ARMY" OF FOREIGN AGENTS IS BROUGHT TO POLICE HEAD-QUARTERS...

LANGHORNE FACES STIFF SEVEN GAME FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

Squad Is Drilling Daily On Playwicki Field Preparing For Opening

START SEASON OCT. 10

A Turnout of Nearly 30 Boys
Greeted Veteran Coach
Charley Beck

By John Wilson Gill
(One of a series of articles dealing with the prospects of local high school football teams for the coming season in lower Bucks county scholastic play.)

Facing a rather difficult seven-game schedule, Langhorne high school is drilling daily on Playwicki field in anticipation of their opening contest on October 10th against George School. A turnout of nearly 30 boys greeted veteran Charley Beck at the first practice last week.

Cancellations sliced a model list of games-down to seven, when Pembrerton, Newtown and Fallsington discontinued play. But the Redskins will not be without competition, meeting Upper Merion, Bristol, Morrisville, Bensalem, Lower Moreland and St. Francis.

Langhorne is situated near the Reading railroad and is served by a public bus line to all points. As long as the Red and Blue can secure accommodations on these public services, they intend to keep the boys active.

"We are not very optimistic," stated Coach Beck in viewing prospects for the coming season. "Although we have a veteran backfield, our line is light and green. The boys have great spirit and real enthusiasm despite a break in routine that finds them working on nearby farms. We'll put a good team on the field, but will face uphill opposition who are all better than us on paper.

"Win, lose or draw," remarked the Langhorne mentor, "we'll be in there trying. Coaches and newspaper men despair, but the boys here at Langhorne will play on forever because they like the game."

That is the attitude at the only small school in the area that has annually taken on the larger schools in the conference. Langhorne seldom shies from facing teams of larger enrollments and although the road has been rocky the past few seasons, hopes are high that some day a return to the good old days will appear—like the day she lost to Olney by one touchdown and met the best in suburban Philadelphia.

Langhorne will shelve the old double wing with a man in motion for a modified version of the "T" formation. The backfield will be experienced with Ken Clark, Lou Spadaccino, Bill Cloak, Bob Reed, Norman Knox and Bob Walsh returning. Jim Salvatore is the only lineman back for action. Flannery, Miller and Hammond are expected to solve the end problem.

The following boys have reported for practice: K. Clark, Salvatore, Hammond, Spadaccino, W. Cloak, Plack, Miller, Wilson, McCarthy, Carter, Paul, Connolly, Farley, Delessandro, Richmond, Flannery, Knox, Daugherty, Salvatore, R. Spadaccini, Reed, Metcklow, Walsh, Lukens, Hisey, Hibbs and Piccotti.

Dorothy Keers, Aged Ten, Has Anniversary Party

Dorothy Keers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Keers, Trenton avenue, celebrated her tenth birthday anniversary on Saturday evening, when she entertained a group of friends at her home. Games were played, and prizes won by Dolores Neill, Elaine Fenton, Lydia Jones and Peggy Ann Winch. Refreshments were served.

Other guests were: Shirley Mount, Betty Lynn, Joan Herrmann, Patricia Lebo, Allen Lebo, Bristol; Joan Marsh, Croydon; Mrs. Anna Jones, Mrs. Allen Lebo, Jr., Mrs. Stanley Keers.

British Commandos Carry Out Raids in Libyan Desert

Continued From Page One
These daring land forays supplemented aerial attacks being carried out constantly against Axis bases and supply lines by the Royal Air Force.

The desert commandos approach to within a few miles of their objectives in jeeps and armored cars and then strike out on foot to reach their targets, armed with heavy machine-guns, grenades and sticks of dynamite.

Almost invariably, these raids have wrought heavy destruction upon enemy bases.

Military officials described the Benghazi-Barce raids as part of a carefully laid plan.

"The idea," a spokesman said, "is to upset the enemy's administrative organization and cause as much alarm and despondency as possible."

"BRAWN FACTORY"

LAFAYETTE, Ind. — (INS) — After concentrating for many decades on the production of mental facilities, Purdue University, pressed by wartime needs for more herculean specimens of manhood, have speeded up operations in the physical education plant to a 47-hour per week "brawn factory."

Both indoor and outdoor facilities aid the comprehensive course in "Physical Preparedness," which was added to the curriculum more than a year ago as Purdue's effort to prepare the male student physically as well as mentally for the ardors of war.

Committee Members Named for Auxiliary

Continued From Page One
George Morris, Mrs. Tracy, Mrs. Blank; child welfare, Mrs. William Hart; legislation, Miss Rita Keating; unit activity and community service, Mrs. Ernest Robinson; rehabilitation, Mrs. Lester Ransom; national defense, Mrs. William A. Thomas; poppies, Mrs. Joseph Zolot; management and employment, Mrs. Roscoe L. Horner; publicity, Mrs. Max Ziegler; Americanism, Mrs. Harry Heller; coupons, Mrs. Harry Bergbauer; junior advisor, Mrs. Cassidy; news letter,

LIBERTY LIMERICKS

Said a veteran pitcher,
"Bull" Penn,

"We're headin' for victory,
men,

So push up your limit
For Bonds to back
Nimitz—

I'm pledging one dollar in ten!"

Uncle Sam will need every spare dollar to win this world's series! Do your part. Buy War Bonds or Stamps each time you're paid.

Use the Classified Columns of The Courier for Quick and Gratifying Results

Mrs. Fred Shesee; executive committee, Mrs. Warren Randall, Mrs. Fred Baingo, and Miss Rita Keating; music, Mrs. Bonnell; membership, Mrs. Randall; Pan-Americanism, Mrs. Harry Friedrich; blanket club, Mrs. Robert Leedom.

Tentative plans were made for the Armistice dinner to be held in November, definite date to be set later.

The president also announced the dinner and military dance arranged in honor of the drum and bugle corps on the 10th of October. The members of the Legion and Auxiliary are invited. The affair will be held in the Langhorne Country Club.

At the October session officers will be installed, and guest officials will be present.

Erecting Fountain To Honor Those In Service

Continued From Page One
nated by colored lights which will glow from beneath the water.

To the rear and sides of the fountain and basin there are tall evergreens.

The fountain is now being erected in honor of not only the members of the Club who have gone into the service, but all the men and women of Bristol who have entered the service are to be honored.

The dedication ceremonies are to be elaborate and will be participated in by Protestants, Catholics, Hebrews and those of other denominations.

Most of the work of erecting the fountain and basin is being done voluntarily by members of St. Ann's Club and they are taking keen delight in the effort as they feel that the project is a worthy one.

Married Women Apply for Positions

Continued From Page One
Fourteen school boards each employed five or more new teachers since schools closed last June. Six districts lost from 50 to 75 percent of their teachers during the past summer.

"All of the schools of Bucks County have been opened. In only three districts were schools delayed in opening because of lack of teachers. Enough substitutes have been secured to keep all schools in session for the present. A large number of the vacancies were filled in the past three days, but thirteen positions are still being maintained by temporary substitutes. Reports of new vacancies continue to come in at the reduced rate of about four a week. As the school boards are requiring that a 60-day notice be given, ample time is available to seek desirable substitutes."

Says Courier Gives Him All Local News

Continued from Page One
etc., received last month. The middle of July I received two cartons of miscellaneous things . . . and the last of August a large can, containing an assortment of cookies was received from the "36 for Victory." . . . It was a most welcome and enjoyable treat.

I just received shoes and wrist watch last week. Those shoes were exactly what I wanted and they fit fine. Also the watch comes in mighty handy. I don't know how I got along so long without one. . . . Thanks a million for writing to my friend Harold Stein. He sent me a letter that he is in New Caledonia, and doing fine. You see we were at Fort Monmouth together, and we promised to write to one another no matter where we wound up. Here we are at opposite ends of the world but both had the same training, and were in the same company together and each attended the same schools as well. Ironical, isn't it?

Luckily I had little trouble with my hay fever this year, only a mild attack for about two weeks, and that was during the spring of the year. As for colds, I've had one since I've been here and that lasted but a week, so you see I'm keeping pretty fit. . . . You mentioned about my meeting a fellow by the name of Laptonak. Of course, I know him. In fact I work with him, and see him every day. If you remember I wrote you some time ago about him once living just outside of Bristol years ago . . . and he had been in our place many times. . . .

Here is something which should be of great interest. Two weeks ago I was walking up Piccadilly when I saw a group of Americans walking down the street. One of the boys looked very familiar, and immediately I recognized him as a Bristol fellow that I had gone to school with. Sure enough, he remembered me and we had quite a talk together. His name is William Riser, from Harriman. But even more surprising was a letter I received from him about a week later, telling me Joseph Moffo is here in England and not far from where I am. Of course I wrote to Joe and now I'm anxiously awaiting his reply so we can get together. How is that for seeing old pals "over here?"

The Courier of course gives me all the local news I need. I've read all about the big July 4th celebration, the trial black-outs. . . . Dr. Fegelson's going into the dental corps, and all the boys going into the army—it must make quite a difference with so many boys gone now, or doesn't it? Tell me, has the Grant store been rebuilt? And if so, who occupies it? Is "Pal" still pining for Walt—the old hound.

I suppose I've told you that I have to follow. Of course I spent a nice made a number of good friends here with the English people. Yes, all in all, I've received very fine treatment, and personally I have a high regard for the English in general. . . .

For diversion I've been to the Tate art gallery, which has a wonderful collection of war paintings. Many done by soldiers who have been through Dunkirk, Tobruk, Narvik, etc. Sailors who experienced battles with subs, planes and elements, etc., painted scenes of the things they had experienced. Naturally I've been to the "movies" and saw some good shows. . . . But by far the most outstanding show that I'd seen since being here was "Mrs. Miniver." Tell me, have you seen it, and if you had how did you like it? The people here thought it was tops. From what I can gather, it was absolutely authentic in its portrayal of the blitzes that England had gone through.

During my off time I had a chance to visit the famous "Limehouse" which is London's Chinatown. I paid a visit also to Madam Trousand's wax works where all the great and former great are displayed in wax. Al Jolson made a surprise appearance in our mess hall the other week and gave us quite a bit of entertainment. We were told that more Hollywood entertainers are afternoon at Regents Park zoo which was quite amusing. I have been to see Shakespeare's "Othello" and was conducted through the "Houses of Parliament" by a member of parliament.

Also paid a visit to the "Tower of London" and learned all about its bloody history from one of the "Beef Eaters" who conducted the tour. Oh, yes, last but by no means least, two of my room-mates and I played a game of golf at the Surry Country Club, which is located near the beautiful Cue Gardens. It was swell out there in the lovely English countryside. You may be wondering how I was able to see and do all those things I like and not spending it in pubs.

The food which is now being served in our mess hall has considerably improved, so that now we are eating as well as the troops back home. So the things you send should be to supplement the meals, i. e., desserts, etc.

I remain as always,
Your loving son,
PAUL.

Pay Taxes NOW
—AND—
Save Five Percent
TAXES ARE NOW DUE AND PAYABLE
FIVE PERCENT PENALTY ADDED OCTOBER 1ST
LOUIS B. GIRTON,
Tax Collector

NOW-when family health can help win the war

YOU CAN WIN A $25 War Savings Bond

4 PRIZES EVERY WEEK

- Any reader of this newspaper except members of the Supplee organization and their families, is eligible to enter the contest.
- Just finish the sentence, "My family is drinking more milk today because . . ." in 25 words or less.
- First prize every week is a $25 War Savings Bond. Second prize, $10 in War Savings Stamps. Third prize, $5 in War Savings Stamps.
- In addition to individual prizes, a weekly prize of a $25 War Savings Bond or $18.75 in cash will be awarded to the Club or Society of women whose club entry wins.
- You can enter each weekly contest as often as you like, but each entry must be entered on a separate sheet of paper.
- Hand your entry to the Supplee milkman or mail to Bristol Supplee Contest, c/o Martino Grocery, 901 Beaver Dam Road, Bristol, Pa.
- Entries should be in by Saturday midnight for each week's contest. Late entries will be automatically entered in the next week's contest. The first contest closes September 26th. The second contest ends October 3rd. Other contests to be announced later.
- The judges are Mrs. Mary A. D. Duhamel, 807 Radcliffe Street, Bristol, Chairman of the Bristol Chapter of the American Red Cross, Mrs. Frank S. Weik, 544 Swain Street, Bristol, Mr. Chauncey E. Stoneback, Jr., of C. E. Stoneback & Sons. Their decisions are final. In case of ties, duplicate prizes will be awarded.
- All entries and ideas become the property of the Supplee-Wills-Jones Milk Company. None will be returned.

BY WRITING 25 WORDS OR LESS
JUST FINISH THIS SENTENCE

My family is drinking more milk today because..

Drinking plenty of milk is more important than ever today when America needs everyone's best efforts. It helps to build vigor, helps you to avoid "war nerves"—the tenseness and irritability that come from longer working hours, worry over war news, upset living conditions.

For authorities say that calcium reduces the irritability of tissue and relaxes muscles. Milk contains several times as much calcium as any other common food—in readily assimilable form. And it has other minerals and vitamins which promote health. It is Nature's most nearly perfect food.

You may win a $25 War Savings Bond by writing how milk has helped your family.

And here's an easy way to give your family all the milk they need. Serve them Tastier Supplee Sealtest Homogenized Vitamin D Milk. Tastes better and is better for everyone. Order from your Supplee milkman, your neighborhood store or phone Bristol 2117.

Tune in the new Supplee program, "STARS IN THE MAKING," Station WTTM, 8 P. M. Tuesdays.

WAR CALLS COME FIRST!

DON'T MAKE UNNECESSARY CALLS!

KEEP ALL CALLS
BRIEF!

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

SUPPLEE

Sealtest

HOMOGENIZED
(pronounced hoe-MAH-jen-ized)
VITAMIN D MILK

MILK IS No. 1 ON
MODEL AMERICAN DIETS

The nation's best nutritionists have created simple, easy diets to be followed in every home. Every one includes milk—a pint daily for adults—a quart for children. Milk can't do the whole job, of course, but it's No. 1 on an adequate diet.*

*One pint of milk supplies an adult's daily requirements of the following food elements in approximately the proportions shown: Calcium, 7/10 of all required; Vitamin A, 1/5; Vitamin B1, 1/7; Vitamin B2, 2/5; Protein, 1/4; Niacin, 1/7; Iron, 1/12; Calories, 1/9.